COEUR DE LION

COEUR DE LION
1979
VOLUME 11

QUEEN ANNE SCHOOL
UPPER MARLBORO,
MARYLAND
20870

No man is an island,
entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main. If a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of the friend's or of thine own:
any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind, and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee . . .

John Donne
Meditation XVII

Where are the songs of Spring? Aye, where are they?
 Think not of them, thou hast thy music too —
 While barred clouds bloom the soft-dying
 day,
 And touch the stubble-plains with rosy
 hue;
 Then in a wailful choir the small gnats mourn
 Among the river shallows, borne aloft
 Or sinking as the light wind lives or dies;
 And full-grown lambs loud bleat from hilly bourn;
 Hedge crickets sing; and now with treble soft
 The redbreast whistles from a garden
 croft;
 And gathering swallows twitter in the skies.

John Keats
 from To Autumn

The Senior class wishes to dedicate the 1979 Coeur de Lion to Mr. Robert C. Weller, a warm and sincere human being who always has other things to do, but will take time from his busy schedule of journalistic deadlines and drama productions to talk with you. And that's just it — he can talk with you. If there is a problem, you can go to him in confidence and get sound advice on anything — from an auction to a spook house. He has given the greatest gift of all — the gift of himself. Mr. Weller enjoys what he does, and the Class of '79 wishes to thank him for sharing his creativity and love with them.

From l. to r Steven Cushner, Jean Holt, Karen M. Kenzie, and Linda Waker

In addition to the regular school day, many Queen Anne students spend as much as another two hours on the school bus. These are the people who keep those rides from becoming too monotonous by coloring the atmosphere with their wonderful personalities

We are as clouds that veil the midnight moon,
How restlessly they speed, and gleam, and quiver,
Streaking the darkness radiantly! — yet soon
Night closes round, and they are lost for ever

Or like forgotten lyres, whose dissonant strings
Give various response to each varying blast,
To whose frail frame no second motion brings
One mood or modulation like the last.

We rest. — A dream has power to poison sleep;
We rise. — One wandering thought pollutes the day;
We feel, conceive or reason, laugh or weep;
Embrace fond woe, or cast our cares away.

It is the same! — For, be it joy or sorrow,
The path of its departure still is free:
Man's yesterday may ne'er be like his morrow;
Nought may endure but Mutability.

Percy Bysshe Shelley

The second week in October was Spirit Week. Wednesday the eleventh turned out to be the most popular day, Hippy Day. The students and faculty showed up at school in the dress of the 1960 era. Thursday was Dress-Up Day and Friday was Blue Gold Dress Day which aroused the spirit for Saturday the fourteenth, Blue Gold Field Day.

Frankenstein Follies, the first Halloween play to be performed at QAS, took place October 28. At 8 30 the curtain went up and the comical, musical, and slightly frightening show began. On June 20, eleven students, Mr. Van Thournout, and Miss Daunt piled into the eighty-foot schooner Boudoin for a week of adventure in Maine. Helping in the galley, scrubbing the deck, attending lectures on marine life, and keeping watch over the boat were among various duties. As well as the personal experience involved, learning about people while living in the tight quarters of the Boudoin made the Maine adventure more than just a biology lesson.

AN EIGHTEENTH CENTURY CHRISTMAS

The town crier, Tom Pratt

On December 7 and 8, the Fine Arts Department presented "A Merrie Eighteenth Century Christmas." The evenings consisted of the Concert Band, Mime Troupe, and Combo performing in Leeland Hall. In St. Barnabas Church the flute, recorder, harpsichord, viola, guitar, and organ were heard during the course of the play. It all made for a very authentic representation of "A Merrie Eighteenth Century Christmas."

The church mouse, Mike Christner

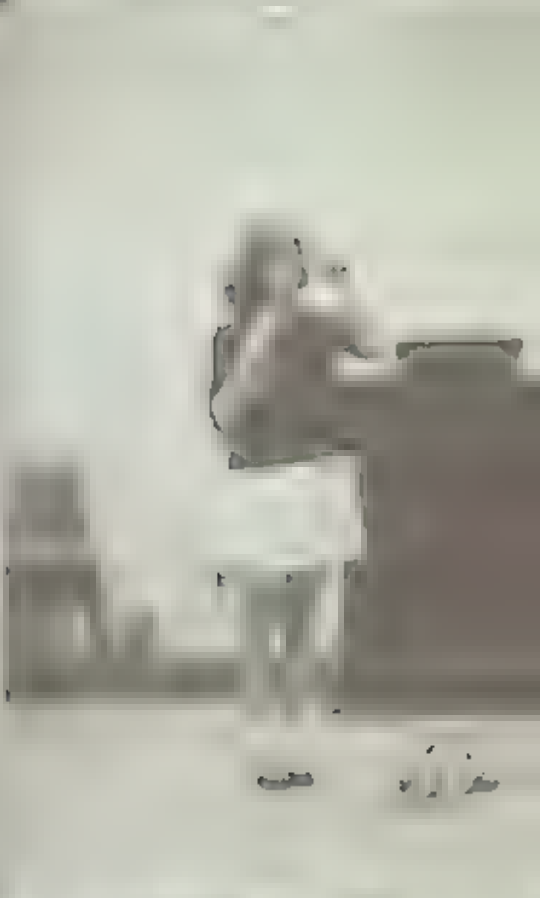

The Randolph sisters — Miss Emily, Margo Summers, and Miss Abigail, Jeanne Bellamy

Mrs. Cockesmythe, Faye Riggleman, and Miss Martha Randolph, Donna Filbey.

A Minuet couple — Nancy Bostian and Robert Wolf

By this, though deep the evening fell,
Still rose the battle's deadly swell,
For still the Scots around their king
Unbroken, fought in desperate ring
. . . Till utter darkness closed her wing
O'er the dim host and wounded king
Then skilful Surrey's sage commands
Led back from strife his shattered bands

And from the charge they drew,
As mountain waves from wasted lands
Sweep back to ocean base
Then did their loss his foemen know,
Their king, their lords, their mightiest low,
They melted from the field, as snow,
When streams are swollen and southwinds blow,
Dissolves in silent dew

Led by prime mover, Larry Whitaker, this year's staff has been working since early last summer to turn out the largest volume in QA's history. The senior class was responsible for the strong support acquired through advertising sales, which were headed by Joan Campbell. Without the help of underclassmen and patrons, this year's Coeur de Lion could not be the impressive example of a yearbook that it is.

Editors Lisa, Amy, and Natalie look over the type guide

Well Editors, you finally did it. You made all the deadlines. Thanks to you, the color is free and we could afford the embossed cover. Sure, we had some minor foul-ups, but I hope that in about ten years, when you pick up this book to dust it off, that you will remember the story behind each layout—the little things that nobody else knows. It's these memories I will cherish forever. I only hope that for you it will be the same. Thanks for being a part of my life at Q.A.

Marian Mitchell listens intently at a Council meeting

I have been on the Student Council for three years and this year's has undoubtedly been the best. This year our constitution was revised and ratified. Through the Council, we all helped a less fortunate child in Guatemala, Alma Lemus. For the first time, the Council put together a talent show. As usual, we had dances, field days, and Student Faculty games.

The Executive Committee was established this year for communication among clubs and committees. It also facilitates mandatory cooperation among them. It is made up of chairmen of clubs, committees, and organizations of Queen Anne. In its first year, the Committee helped organize many school events. I hope that in following years the Executive Committee will grow and become much more effective.

Colleen Brennan and Gaye Grayson brewing up a new idea

Due to the advent of the Dance Committee, the Activities Committee has been able to devote itself to new things. A talent show was put together, a more organized Student-Faculty volleyball game was played (fought), and a Winter Field Day was set up. The Committee is one of the many organizations that help keep the students going, even through those long, cold months. We always welcome new members

Larry Whitaker, Chairman

The Dance Committee was formed this year so that we could have well-planned, rowdy dances!!! The members of the Committee selected the bands, took money for tickets, decorated for the dances, and cleaned up afterwards. I'd like to thank everyone who supported the Committee by devoting their time and effort. Their concern and aid are greatly appreciated

Six juniors and seniors worked through the year to bring us a prom never to be forgotten. They masterminded many fundraisers, bake sales, and a dance marathon to get the fund started. Members used their free time to search for a suitable location. Their quest ended with the discovery of the Sheraton-Park in D.C. These students exhausted themselves looking for just the right band. Everyone appreciated their efforts

Through the year the Environmental Committee has enhanced the appearance of QA by collecting trash from the campus. While working with the Parents Club, the E.C. accomplished the difficult task of painting new bushes and trees around the QA grounds. The E.C. also established its first paper drive. In our effort to recycle trash, we managed also to keep QA clean.

MATH TEAM

What the Math Team lacked in quantity this year, they more than made up for in quality. These six students, coached by Mrs. Peggy Sansing, faced larger teams all over P.G. County and held their own admirably. In these competitions, students were given six problems to complete in a specified amount of time. Then, the team would work on three problems. The winners received awards and earned a chance to compete in area and national meets.

The Halloween dinner theatre was a new concept for Queen Anne, but the whole evening went successfully, with sixty percent of the student body turning out.

Of the songs they sang this year, members of the intermediate chorus picked "Simple Melody" and Mike Gibbons' solo "I Feel Pretty" as their favorites.

Jon Masters accompanies the chorus as they sing "Tomorrow"

SENIOR CHORUS

The chorus rehearses as a gargoyle looks on

Senior chorus members liked "Lyda Rose" and "Tomorrow." The senior chorus sang at the National Cathedral on November 18. They were part of a large chorus that performed for the National Association of Episcopal Schools' convention

Junior Varsity Girls Softball

The Junior Varsity softball squad enjoyed a short but successful season. Coach Krahling named sophomore Lynne Bressi as the team's most valuable player for her winning pitching.

Varsity Girls Softball

The Varsity Girls softball team played excellently and consistently during the spring of 1979. Two important players were pitcher Deanne Carr and freshman Sue Hoyer, who played first base. Deanne, now a graduate, will play softball for the University of Nebraska next season.

Boys Baseball

Back row: Assistant Coach Chrisner, Jay Ciro, Johnny Graham, Dave Sheppard, Frank Stoetzel, Mike Lepak, Mark Farnan, Bob Chrisner (Captain), Kamal Abdullah, Coach Green Front row Jimmie Roberts, John Kuttler, Jeff Brown, Mike McPherson, Andy Brown, Paul Stackpole Missing Randy Sword, Kevin Conroy, Paul Summers, Kevin Soliday

The 1979 Boys Baseball season was a rebuilding experience as the team consisted of primarily freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. Senior Jay Ciro, named Most Valuable Player of this team, was recruited by many colleges; he selected The Catholic University of America where he plans to continue playing baseball.

BANQUET

Mrs. DeWitt, table set for the feast

This year the Latin Department held its tenth annual Roman Banquet. For one evening Queen Anne Latin students live as the Romans: they don the traditional toga; the "upper class" are served and waited upon by the introductory latin class; they recline upon couches as they eat; and they dine sumptuously "Ab ovo usque ad mala" ("From soup to nuts"). The entertainment, which is furnished by the students themselves, includes dancing girls, gladiatorial combats, short plays, songs and a fashion show. The dining area is decorated in Roman style with murals made by Queen Anne art students

Awards

Students at Queen Anne were commended for their athletic and academic achievements for 1978-79 at two awards ceremonies.

The athletic assembly was held Thursday, May 31. That morning letters were given to team members and special awards to "most valuable players."

On the evening of June 1st, ice cream cookies, and punch were served by the Parents Club committee of Mrs. Ketchum to a huge, seated crowd of parents, students, and faculty in Arnold Hall. At this time the academic awards were presented. The audience was entertained by the Queen Anne Madrigal Society, the choruses, and band. The master of ceremonies, Mr. Farin, dazzled recipients with his wit. The culmination of the presentations was the Drew Tidler award to Joan Evans.

AN EVENING WITH WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

On March 15th O.A. met to see a evening of high school. Mr. Wolf, taking this piece as a lesson of superb love, some Shakespearean comedies: The Battle of the Sexes, A Midsummer Night's Dream, performed first, in set in a wood near Athens. Therein, fairies mixed with mortals, causing mischief. The mixed-up main characters are Helena (Margo Summers), Hermia (Wendy McKee), Demetrius (Mike Gibbons), Lysander (Richard Mammendorf) and Puck (Lindsay Hollingsworth). The players next moved to the forest of Arden. As You Like It deals with misanthropic living. Rosalind (Joanne Bellamy), dressed as a boy for safety in the forest, falls Orlando (Mike Gibbons) until he declares his love for the "fair Rosalind". Others in the wood: Touchstone (Robert Wolf), Audrey (Joanne Gervais) and Jacques (Eddie Fisher). In The Taming of the Shrew, Katherine (Gaye Greyson) is the mistress of Petruchio (Eric Henning) who tames and subdues her. Others were also Bianca (Cathy Pruden) with Luciano (Robert Wolf), and the Widow (Donna Filbey) with Baptista (Mike Gibbons). The program was spiced with singing and dancing throughout, with from the Bard himself (Al Van Thournout) last song. Hopefully this enjoyable event will become a O.A. tradition.

CARNIVAL

In March of 1979 Mr. Weller, Mrs. Masters, and Mrs. Morgan together with a cast and crew of drama, choral and instrumental students, and art majors began preparing the set for the production of Carnival. The work was hard, but because of the closeness of the company, it went along fairly quickly. As the play drew close to opening work nights usually began at three p.m. and ended at ten p.m. or midnight. Then, on Friday, May 11th, the play was ready to be seen before a live audience.

The cast for Carnival was one of the largest ever chosen for a Q.A. production. The chorus doubled as clowns, circus people and sang crowd-pleasing numbers. There were two pairs of leading actors and actresses Jeanne Bellamy and Margo Summers portrayed Lili while Eric Henning and Mike Gibbons doubled as Paul, the puppeteer.

The first show was a matinee on Friday. This performance of Carnival was given for elementary school students, particularly Holy Trinity School. It was a total success, since all seats were filled and smiles could be seen on the children's faces for Lili and Paul and the charming puppets and circus folk. The three other performances on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday ran without incident and much praise from parents and friendly critics.

OAK GROVE ROAD COMPANY

The Oak Grove Road Company made its first appearance at the Publick Playhouse this past July 13th and 14th in Cheverly, Maryland. Organized by Robert C. Weller and Barbara Masters, the performance of this adaptation of "Pinocchio" was another outstanding display of Queen Anne's dramatic and musical talents. Top left, lighting director Larry Whitaker; top right, Lucky Cricket (Margo Summers) left, Giopetto (Mike Gibbons) and Steven Foote, right Pinocchio (Dan Doherty)

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

This year's prom was held at the Sheraton-Park in Washington, D.C. It topped off a new experience with each couple arranging their own dinner before arriving at the Sheraton. Here the couples were entertained well into the morning by the energetic band, Cherry Smash. After the prom everyone was invited to dine on quiche and donuts and to sign yearbooks at the breakfast. The Prom Committee's appreciation goes to Mr. and Mrs. House for their sumptuous breakfast on Edmund Street, N.W.

Graduation 1979

Queen Anne's eleventh annual commencement exercises for the Class of 1979 were held in St. Barnabas churchyard on Saturday, June 9. The day's activities began with a Baccalaureate service in St. Barnabas Church at 10:00 A.M.

Commencement exercises began at 11:00 with the procession of the faculty and the Senior Class. A welcoming address was given by Natalie Belanga, followed by Robert Wolff reading Goin' Back by Gerry Cuthbert and Carole King. The valedictory address was made by Achsah Dersey in which she reflected on events that had happened during the past six years and on hopes and goals for the future. Members of the class of '79 accompanied by Joan Campbell on guitar sang For Your Children. The Commencement Address was then made by A. VanThournout, who also reflected on the past and on other happenings during the school year, concentrated on going forward — we cannot live in memories. We must build on them. Mr. VanThournout continued: "The graduation ceremony is a transition — looking backward and looking forward almost at the same time and to such an extent that we often do not know in which direction we are looking at any given moment."

Before announcing appointments to the Queen Anne Honor Society, Tom Farin paused to recall an 8th grade shower given by the class for his daughter, and invited each member of the class to her graduation in 1995. Dr. Garnric and Mr. Farin then proceeded with the presentation of diplomas. Joan Campbell and Tom Sewer read the roll while Steve Tesley and Celia Ward rang the bell. After rolling members of the class of 1980 released "The Spirit of '79" and several dozen balloons. Graduation caps were thrown once the class had been pronounced "graduated" and the graduates filed out of the churchyard and crossed to Leeland Hall for a reception.

Commencement is the beginning — the beginning of a new phase in our lives. We have not only rounded another corner in our educational careers, but we have also earned the value of true friendship and that earning it the strictest sense is really a part of our education is a whole. As Mr. VanThournout quoted from the Rolling Stones: "You can't always get what you want, but if you try sometime you just might find that you've got what you need."

Yes, we have gotten some of what we need here at Queen Anne, and the life that we have shared here and the learning in its broadest possible sense will also stay with us and serve us all well in the future that lies ahead.

I came upon a child of God,
He was walking along the road.
And I asked him, 'Where are you going?'
And he told me, 'I am going down to Yangu
Farm,

Gonna join a rock and roll band,
I'm gonna camp out on the land
And try an' get my soul free.'

'Then, can I walk beside you?
I have come here to lose the song.
And I feel to be a clock and something twining,
Maybe it is just the time of year,
Or maybe it's a time of man,
I don't know who I am,
But life is for learning.'

I think I'm goin' back
 To the things I learned so well in my youth.
 I think I'm returning to these days
 When I was young enough
 To know the truth.
 Now there are no games to only pass the time,
 No more electric trains,
 No more trees to climb,
 But thinking young, and growing older is no sin.
 And I can't play the game of life no win.

I can recall the time
 When I was ashamed to reach out to a friend.
 Now I think I've got alot more than just my toys to lend.

Now there's more to do than watch my sail boat glide,
 But every day can be a magic carpet ride,
 'Cause I can play hide and seek with my fears,
 And I live my days instead of counting my years.

I can recall the time when I was ashamed to reach out to a friend.
 Now I think I've got a lot more than just my toys to lend.

Let everyone debate true reality
 I'd rather see the world the way it used to be.
 A little bit of courage is all we lack,
 So catch me if you can I'm goin' back.

Gerry Goffin and Carole King
